COURT RECORD WILL STAND FOR MANY TERMS TO COME.

Work Looked Good for More Than Two Weeks but Was Cleared Up in One and Jurors Are Discharged.

CASES MOSTLY TRIVIAL ONES.

And This Helped Some—One Jury Declares Five Cases Without Leaving the Box—Last Case Taken Up Before Judge Umbel This Morning.

UNIONTOWN, Sept. 14.—Not in the memory of the oldest members of the Fayette county bar has such a record as that of this week been made for clearing up the docket. In one week a list was disposed of that for a while looked as though more than two might be needed. District Attorney T. H. Hudson and his assistant, D.
W. Henderson, had the machinery in fine running order and not even a bolt slipped.

There were 266 cases on the list, but many pleas of guilty were entered before the Grand Jury convened. This body returned 109 true bills, which is an exceptional number. Fortunately for the well laid plans of the court, all of the cases were of a trivial nature, which didn't require much time to be tried. As an instance of how things were rushed, in Judge Reppert's court yesterday, five verdicts were returned, by a jury which didn't leave the box.

The jurors except the few on duty were discharged this morning with the thanks of the court, Judge Umbel remarking that the work accomplished could not have been done without their assistance and cooperation.

A verdict or not guilty was returned in the case of James C. Givens of Connellsville, charged with assaulting his father, Frank Givens. A pair of soldiers was used in the attack. The costs were divided.

Francisco Lunnie, an Ohio traveler prosecuted for carrying concealed weapons by Constable J. L.
Cunningham, was convicted. The charge against him was preferred against him by a fellow foreigner who was not substantiated. George Hind-da was acquitted of the charge of breaking into a house occupied by John Gillock in New Haven.

Domenico Corbelli, who pled guilty to selling liquor without a license and running a disorderly house, was fined $100 on the first charge and fined $100 on the second.

Patrick Hayes entered a plea of guilty to furnishing liquor to a person of known intemperate habits.
Sidney Roberts was acquitted of a larceny charge. Mark Logan plead guilty to swiping $5 from the store of Frank N. Mitchell at Bridgeport.

The last case on trial was that taken up before Judge Umbel this morning against Samuel Fee, charged with false pretense and making false answers. The latter charges were thru.

Fee is being prosecuted by J. C. Adams, representing F. T.
Adams. Fee is alleged to have represented that he owned property, thus obtaining credit.

A Baltimore prize fight, which was pulled off one night in September, 1905, was the basis of a case heard before Judge Umbel yesterday afternoon. The defendant was Jacob Kromer of Scotland, and he was acquitted by the jury without leaving the box. Soon after the trouble an information was made against Kromer, Harry Trimble, John Murphy, Cash Grim and William Riggs, but at the preliminary hearing some of the defendants were discharged. Others could not be found and were never arrested. Trimble and Kromer were convicted at the December term of court, 1906, but on May 7 of this year, a new trial was granted to Kromer.

LEGS CUT OFF.

D. J. Sullivan, P. & L. E. Flagman, Meets With a Horrible Accident at Jacobs' Creek.

D. J. Sullivan, aged 35 years, a P.
& L. E. Flagman, working out of McKees Rocks, met with an accident shortly after midnight which resulted in the loss of both legs below the knees. He was found by the crew lying along the track north of Jacobs Creek. The supposition is that he had gone to flag a train and was run down.

The injured man was hurried to the Cottage State hospital where it was found that his feet were so badly mashed that amputation was necessary below the knees. Sullivan is single and his home is in Kent, N. Y.
He is resting easy today.

SIXTH ANNIVERSARY

Of President McKinley's Death at Buffalo Today.

Today is the sixth anniversary of the death of President William Mc-Kinley, who died at Buffalo September 14, 1901, just a week after he was shot while at the Pan-American Exposition.

President McKinley was shot by Anarchist Charles while holding a reception at the Exposition, following the delivery of a memorable address.

FIVE CENTS A MILE.

Is All That Will be Allowed for Primary Expenses.

HARRISBURG, Sept. 14.—Auditor General Young has refused to allow more than 5 cents a mile in the item of "mileage" in the uniform primary election expense bills. County Commissioners who have paid a higher rate of mileage have had their bills disapproved and returned by the auditor general for correction.

Charges for mileage by judges of election in making returns of the primaries last June vary as much as the charges for ballot boxes, printing, clerk hire and other details and suggest the necessity of a law fixing uniform rates. Nearly all the bills for the June primaries have been sent back to the County commissioners by which they were returned with the suggestion by Auditor General Young that the amounts of certain items be changed because he regarded them either as excessive or not contemplated by law.

The department is preparing a schedule of rates to be used as a basis by commissioners in the preparation of primary election expense bills.

BIG CELEBRATION

In Massachusetts Today Commemorating the Settling of Ohio Years Ago.

United Press Telegram.
RUTLAND, Sept. 14.—Exercises of more than ordinary interest, together with an historical pageant, were held here today under the auspices of the Rufus Putnam Memorial Association to commemorate the events that led up to the founding and settling of the state of Ohio.

Rutland is known historically as the "Cradle of Ohio," for here lived General Putnam who planned and naturalized the Ohio Company, which went out into the wild western country and settled the town of Marietta in 1788.

Putnam's old house here still stands, the house from which was issued the call for the convention which led to the organization of the Ohio Company, and over the threshold of which the famous old soldier went to lead that company to the great Northwest.

The house is now a public memorial, with its rooms administrated and filled with a valuable historic collection.

Today's commemoration began this morning with a representation of the departure of General Putnam and his party for Ohio. The party went with three ox teams, two yokes of oxen to each team, one two-horse carriage and General Putnam's saddle horse. They took four cows and one bull. The party started from the Rufus Putnam house and passed through the village and back, pausing for brief exercises before the church.

This afternoon a public meeting was held in Town Hall, at which President Carroll D. Wright of Clark College presided. The principal address was given by Prof. James K. Hemen-way of the University of New England and the West. His address was preceded by words of greeting from representatives of the Western Society of Boston and the Ohio Society of New York.

Short Session of Police Court Held
This Morning.

A brief session of police court was held by Burgess Shisco this morning. Only four offenders appeared for a hearing. All were trespassers, ar-

Two were discharged while the oth-

INSPECTOR BUSY.

Violation of Postal Laws Occasion for Tour.

United States Court was in session at Monessen postoffice yesterday. Postoffice Inspector H. H. Williams being there to investigate a number of cases reported to the department where patrons sent first class matter as third or fourth class.
There were 10 cases in all, nine of which were disposed of. The fine for this offense the first time is $10.

Postmaster E. M. Prys has positive evidence that some business men and persons who have intelligence enough to know better are violating this law. Third-class matter is printed material and fourth-class is merchandise. He has instructed from the department to exercise more vigilance in the future in obtaining evidence against such offenders and report the case promptly.

When the postmaster has reason to doubt the word of the sender he will open packages and if they contain writing or any other first-class matter the case will be reported promptly, whenever it may affect the Inspector, gave instructions. He broke this practice up there even if it requires an extra clerk to examine third and fourth-class matter.

COST PETER $300.

Former Handsome Brewmaster at the Yough Settled with Sepha Ariz for that Amount.

"Dunderwetter!" How would you like to pay a woman three hundred dollars, who had expected you to marry her, but concerning whom you had changed your mind?

That was the amount paid last week at Somerset in the settlement of a breach of promise suit and it was no other than Peter Fensel, the gen-tling, good natured, philanthropic brewmaster of the Windber brewery, who separated himself from the "long green," he was formerly brewmaster at the Yough brewery.

Peter had been sued for a breach of promise by one Sepha Ariz of Connellsville, and while he denied her allegations, he wasn't insisting on the production of the proof. The respondent, Fensel, decided to let the whole story be told to a jury of his peers, but when he was confronted by the plaintiff and her husband, together with an attorney from Fayette, he decided to accept their terms. Each party to the suit paid his or her own expenses.

Both the plaintiff and the defendant have been married since the suit was started, and it was thought that this fact, would settle the matter, but it didn't, for the defendant's love had turned to wrath.

This romance was begun in 1904.
At that time Mr. Fensel was the brewmaster of the Yough Brewing Company of Connellsville and it was during his residence in the coke region that he formed the acquaintance of Miss Ariz. The plaintiff alleged that Fensel had proposed marriage to her and that she accepted; later, the news was broken to the girl's parents and there was no objection to the match from that quarter. Subsequently Mr. Fensel moved to Windber and changed his mind about marrying Miss Sepha. He wrote her a letter spreading her of his change of heart and the response was a suit for $5,000 damages.

Rather than to give the newspapers an opportunity to tell in detail the story of his old love affair, and to undergo the annoyance of a court trial, Mr. Fensel paid the bill and left for Windber, where he resides with his wife.

secure his release, he will play there next summer.

PLANS FOR THE CELEBRATION.

Are Fast Being Matured by the Executive Committee in Charge of the Affair. October 1.—Bridge and Streets to Be Brightly Decorated.

A large and universal "bargain day" is planned for Connellsville by the Merchants' Association, to be held some time after the bridge is freed, to offer inducements for shoppers to patronize local stores. The matter was casually discussed at the meeting of the Executive Committee of the free bridge celebration last night. At the next regular meeting of the Merchants' Association a committee will be appointed to take the matter up.

The merchants are of the opinion that this will be an excellent way to bring trade to town. It is also intimated that out of this one big bargain day may grow the adoption of a certain day each week or two for the local stores to make special inducements for trade both in and out of town.

The Executive Committee is well pleased with the progress thus being made towards the mammoth celebration October 1. A vote of thanks was extended to the principals and teachers who are taking such an interest in the affair. The Music Committee was directed to employ five bands, which are to report here at 8:30 on the morning of the celebration. Floats, grandstands and arches are to be erected at each end of the bridge, instructions to "effect having been given to the Connellsville and O. R. Railroad of the KeyStone Planning Mill Company.

To E. Dunn and J. R. Balesley has been assigned the task to make a speech before the school children of each room in the Connellsville and New Haven schools. They will impress upon the pupils the importance of the day. A prize will be offered that High School student submitting the best essay on the free bridge.

No action was taken on the proposition from a representative of Decorator Mummaux of Pittsburg for decorating the bridge and streets of town. The representative will meet the committee at its meeting next Tuesday.

Invitations will be issued early next week to the members of all fraternal, social and other organizations of town, asking them to participate in the celebration.

ESTABLISHED A PRECEDENT.
Judge Calls Cases in Spite of District Attorney.

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., Sept. 14.—Judge Francis J. Kosser yesterday afternoon established a precedent in the Criminal Court by overruling the District Attorney, who claimed to call the Henry Jones murder case, after the other cases had been disposed of.
Council for Jones insisted that their case be called at once and the court agreed. Never in the history of this court had the District Attorney been denied the privilege of calling the cases in the order he chose.
Jones is charged with the murder of John Spivok at Jerome, last April.
He shot Spivok, it is alleged, at a Christianizing. A coroner's jury discharged Jones, finding it a case of justifiable homicide. Subsequently he was lodged in jail charged with murder on information of the dead man's widow.

$2,000 LOSS.

Soremo's Lost Building and Contents at Dickerson Run This Morning By Fire.

The building owned and occupied as a pool room at Dickerson Run by George and James Soremo was completely destroyed by fire this morning, and there was great difficulty in saving the adjoining buildings owned and occupied by P. D. Green.
The loss was about $2,000, without any insurance.

The fire was discovered at an early hour, but had gained such headway that no attempt was made to save the structure. All efforts were devoted to saving the dwelling of Mr.
Green, which was accomplished after hard work. The P. & L. E. Company has a water supply there, but the hose was too short to reach to the burning building.

WAS GREAT SUCCESS.

Westmoreland Co. Sunday School Association Meeting at Scottdale.

Ball Game for Amateur Championship of Fayette County Today—Rev. Mr. Cowling's Body Has Been Brought Home.

SCOTSDALE, Sept. 14.—The second day and closing session of the 16th annual convention of the Westmoreland County Sunday School Association, in the Baptist church, was held with the attendance, enthusiasm and a general verdict that the meetings were very profitable. Among the topics handled at Friday's session was that of the primary department of the Sunday school, which was in charge of Miss Anna Porter of Scottdale, who is primary superintendent of Fayette county. In Westmoreland county Miss J. W. Gilchrist of Greensburg is the primary superintendent, and having been but recently appointed has not yet had opportunity to the thorough organization which her initial work denotes she will have it before long. Miss Porter talked spiritedly on the cradle roll which is designed for the children up to 4 years of age, and which is considered the chief feeder to the Sunday school. She emphasized the value of unremitting work in bringing up the members in the cradle roll and through it to the Sunday school. The cradle roll is a splendid way into the homes of the people. The workers inquire regarding the children, get their names on the cradle roll, and in a surprising number of cases thus secure the interest and cooperation of the parents, and win many of them into the Sunday school. "That a little child shall lead them" seems the motto of the cradle roll people. To get the children into the Sunday school as early as possible is the cardinal point. They are in and are not likely to get out of the Sunday school. The point was made by Miss Porter that all the Sunday schools should insist that the mothers bring their children to Sunday school. There is sometimes a timidity on the part of parents against bringing the children in for fear that they will spoil the services. The cradle roll people prefer to risk spoiling services rather than the children, and in many of the schools girls of 14 or more are ready to take care of the children and amuse them during the Sunday school time. Rev. J. Newton Armstrong of New Alexandria, gave an address on the "Home Department of the Practical Sunday School." He dilated upon the means of arousing the interest of grown people in the Sunday school and drove home the point that the Sunday school lesson considered aside from its educational benefit has a mental stimulus and value that should commend itself to every thinking man and woman. In this connection he advised the Sunday schools to see that the grown people of the church, who cannot or will not attend the Sunday school, be provided with the lesson papers. He pointed out that many a person who receives these lesson papers soon becomes interested in the approaching treatment of the lesson subject and determines to get in a Sunday school, join a class and have their say on the lessons. The afternoon and evening sessions were well attended and were devoted to take the lines of Sunday school work of various sorts. Another of the popular outdoor concerts by the G. A. R. band will be given at the band stand at Locust Park at 8 o'clock this evening. The program is as follows: "March, 'Goodnight Celebration,'" Chas. Hale. "Overture, 'Der Tambor der Gards,'" A. E. Gitt. "Cornet solo, 'Testimonial,'" F. A. Fitzgerald. "Meditation, 'Angel of Love,'" Chas. G. P. Handel. "March, 'Impassioned Dreams,'" J. C. Rossas. "American Patriotic, 'Gems of Stephen C. Foster,'" Chas. G. P. Handel. "Largo, C. F. Handel. "March, 'Fraternity Bell,'" B. M. Cummings. A game of base ball for the amateur championship of Fayette county will be played at Ellsworth park at 4 o'clock this afternoon. It will be between Ettenboro and Everson, each team having won a game. The body of Rev. J. P. Cowling, a former pastor of the United Brethren Church here, was brought to Scottdale from McKeesport on the afternoon train Friday and taken to the Scottdale cemetery. The casket was opened there for the friends, and was then placed in the Overholt mausoleum to await the home coming of Mrs. Cowling, who is in Europe. The Scottdale auditorium will open for skating next Wednesday evening under the management of L. G. Gilchrist. The fall military opening of the Brown Millinery Company in the Overholt building was very successful on Friday and will be continued today. This company has an established reputation for beauty and style in millinery and this year's display is the best they have ever had. Visitors to the Youngwood fair this week fully bear out Director Edward Werkman's forecast made in The Courier that this year's fair would be the best ever held in this county. The live stock exhibit overtops anything ever shown in Westmoreland county.

MOLDERS' WILL WORK

Reported in Town Today That Men Will Apply for Reinstatement.

ADMIT THEY ARE DEFEATED.

One Striker Stated This Morning That He Would Return to Work Monday Morning and Others to Follow Suit. Struck for Recognition of Union.

It is reported about town today that the molders' strike has been settled and Monday will see an end of the trouble. Efforts to confirm the rumor were unsuccessful. None of the firms affected by the strike profess to know anything about this new turn of affairs and say the situation is the same as it has been all along. According to the rumor the molders have decided to give up the fight and will apply for their old positions next week. It is said that a number of them have become tired of the striking business and are anxious to return to their tasks once more.

One of the strikers said this morning that he expected to ask for his old position Monday. According to his statement, other strikers will adopt the same course, giving up all the demands they made upon the employers before the strike. The molders struck several weeks ago, following the lead taken by other local unions in various parts of the State. The strike here was not of great importance. Their demands were principally for the recognition of the union and new rules in regard to apprentices.

United Press Telegram. PITTSBURGH, Sept. 14.—The produce yards were the scene of a riotous time today when the straw hats of straw hats for this season was sounded. About 60 boxcars were seized and nailed to box cars consigned to the Pacific Coast. Many amusing situations developed during the affair. A prominent and distinguished local estate dealer had his hat taken and created a scene when it was kicked to pieces. All his pleading and swearing availed nothing.

EXCITING RIDE

By Pittsburgh Fire Department to the West Newton Fire—Loss About $30,000.

Responding to a call for assistance, which stated the entire town of West Newton was in danger, Chief Humphries of the Pittsburgh fire department yesterday afternoon started engine company No. 2 toward the scene of the conflagration. After making a record run on a special train over the B. & O. as far as Versailles, a message was received that the fire was under control, and a return to the city was made.

The fire, which broke out in the plant of the United States Radiator Company about 12:15 o'clock, was found not to be as serious as was feared. It started in the new building, which contains the machine shop, and quickly spread to others. In a short time the office, the pattern shops and part of the main building were attacked. Though the Volunteer Fire Department and the 400 employees worked energetically, it was feared the fire would spread to the tenement houses in the vicinity, and from there to other portions of the town. Pittsburgh was asked for aid, but no engine was available there, and Pittsburgh was appealed to. After burning furiously for about three hours the blaze was got under control. The loss is estimated at anywhere from $15,000 to $25,000. It will take some days to ascertain what portion of the patterns, which were the most valuable contents of the building, were destroyed. It is believed employees carried the majority of these to safety. The plant covers over four acres, and is the chief dependence of the town. The cause of the fire was given as an explosion of natural gas. As soon as the insurance can be adjusted, rebuilding will take place. Senator W. E. Crow, S. M. Graham and O. W. Kennedy of Uniontown held stock to the amount of $40,000 in this concern, and Senator Crow is a member of the Board of Directors.

The Moroccan Danger.

It is in September, at this time of the autumnal equinox, that the Moroccan danger becomes particularly bad. We have had opportunity of seeing the difficulties of disembarkation of our sailors and soldiers, although it has taken place in full summer, on a sea relatively calm. Perhaps the Moroccans are awaiting the time when the unchaining of the winds to pounce upon our little army corps, cut off from external help, says M. Henri Rochefort in the Paris Intransigent. All the valor of the French and the tactics of General Druze would be broken to pieces against the Moroccan hordes, whose anti-French fury would no longer know bounds.
